

THE PERFECT BALANCE ROULETTE SYSTEM

The principle of this system is simple. You bet on numbers that have repeated and the final unhit number that would complete a street. This system has been around for some time but this particular playing style was recently re-invented by two members of a roulette forum. Several adjustments may be made to the system to fit your playing style, but the recommended rules of play are defined below.

System Rules

- ◆ Track 8 spins of the wheel.
- ◆ Record your numbers using the charts provided.
- ◆ After you have tracked 8 spins, look for your bet triggers.
- ◆ Your bet triggers will be any number that has 2 marks under it indicating it has been hit twice, or any street with 2 numbers crossed out (you will bet the number that is not crossed out).
- ◆ You bet all triggers after 8 spins and then you will add triggers, or numbers, to your bet as they occur.
- ◆ You “flat” bet until you get your first hit. If you get your first hit and you have increased your bankroll, then end the session and begin a new one.
- ◆ If after your first win you have not increased your bankroll, keep tracking and betting until you get a second hit. If you have to, increase your unit bet so that the next win will place you in profit.
- ◆ When you get your second hit, if you are in profit, you may re-track and start a new session. If not, play for a third hit and increase your bet if necessary.
- ◆ It is up to the individual if you would like to go for a second and third hit if after the first hit you are already in profit.

Example

Let's say that these are the results from the first 8 spins: 23,11,34,25,10,30,23,17

Your two triggers would be 23 (because it hit twice), and 12 (because it is the un-hit number left in the street 10,11,12).

You would now begin to bet 23 and 12 on the very next spin (spin #9).

Now the following number comes in: 35

You would not have a win, but you would have another trigger. You would now be betting 23, 12 and 36 (because it is the only un-hit number in the street 34,35,36).

The next number is: 8

You would have no new trigger here and you would not have a win. You would bet 23,12 and 36 again for the next spin.

The next number is 36. That's a hit! You would now be in profit 28 units so you can do one of two things. You can opt to conclude this session and start a new one, or you can continue playing and go for one or two more wins. If the wins come quickly, that's great. If not, you may have to raise your bets to ensure a profit. The important thing is to quit at a profit, and start a new session.
